GRAVE IS CHARGE DETECTIVE MAKES

Two Young Men Arrested in Kentucky Robbery Case.

Officer Declines to Talk and Prisoners Deny Accusation in the Warrant.

STEAMER LOSES LARGE SUM.

Virgil Holcombe and Robie Reynolds, two well known young men of Paducah, were arrested at 12:30 o'clock today by Detective T. J. Moore on a warrant, charging them with taking over $800 from the steamer Kentucky. The arrest came as a surprise and this afternoon the young men are trying to make bond.

About June 1 officers on the steamer Kentucky sent for Detective Moore and informed him that they missed over $800 and suspected that some one on the boat was guilty of taking it. They gave him the case to work up. Some of the money was secured apparently by a neat manipulation of books, and although the officers tried to detect the guilty person they failed.

Holcombe and Reynolds were seen this afternoon at the city hall and stated they had nothing to do with the robbery and knew nothing of it. They declared the arrest was a mistake and that they will be able to disprove any charge made.

The detective will give out no information, but will wait until the trial. It is understood that the evidence is merely circumstantial. Holcombe was employed for seventeen months as second clerk on the boat and Reynolds is a son of John Reynolds, chief engineer on the boat. The son often goes to the boat.

Holcombe quit running on the Kentucky three weeks before the robbery was committed but made one trip on the Clyde since then.

The outcome of the matter will be watched with interest, both young men being well known and generally popular among their associates.

Virgil Holcombe gave bond in the sum of $500 this afternoon and was released. Young Taylor and Frank Smedley are his bondsmen.

I could not see but remember of some one falling about the bed. He secured one pair of trousers but got nothing. Then he went to those I had been wearing and searched them. He got nothing there but turned his attention to my coat and vest. The intruder got my $50 watch and the ten dollar bill from the vest. In leaving the premises he threw one pair of trousers in the yard."

Mr. Pate stated that he felt ill when he finally came to his senses. His head was aching and he felt sick. He feels sure he was "doped," but cannot imagine what was used.
